

The Pat Jobson Prize £250 awarded annually

Background

The prize was established and funded by Pat Jobson, one of the very early members of the British Association of Audiological Physicians. He was the first Audiological Physician at the Royal Surrey County Hospital, retiring in 1980. He set up the prize to encourage trainees and young consultants in their promotion of the specialty of Audiological Medicine. He was also a founder member of the TWJ foundation that was set up in honour of Pat's father who was also an ENT surgeon in Guildford. The TWJ Foundation provides fellowships for trainees in Audiovestibular Medicine and ENT to travel to North America for education/research.

Eligibility

Registrars and Consultants within 5 years of their first appointment in the specialty of Audiovestibular Medicine.

Topic

A project that promotes either the science, or the services, of Audiovestibular Medicine. This can be:

- presentation to a scientific (or audit) meeting,
- report or publication
- development of new services within Audiovestibular Medicine
- outstanding service to the promotional work of the specialty

Submission

Nominations should be sent to the Honorary Secretary 3 months before the March/April AGM at which the prize will be awarded.

Candidates can themselves apply for the award by submitting a report of a project in a form suitable for publication.

Candidates may be proposed for the award by Consultants in Audiovestibular Medicine.

In both cases the successful nomination must be accompanied by a recommendation from a member of BAAP in accordance with the rules of the TWJ Foundation.

Selection

The prize-winner is chosen by a team of 3 members of the Association, the Chair of this awards panel is the Chairman of the Education Committee (BAAP Mins. 69/11)

Award holders

These have included Deirdre Lucas, John Irwin, Peter Savundra, A. Thambapillai, Doris Bamiou, Waheeda Pagarka, Sebastian Hendricks, Ian Colvin, Simone Walter and Charlotte Agrup.

Guidelines prepared by Susan Snashall, based upon Pat Jobson's original suggestions and subsequent discussions by the Association